

DAILY CONSTITUTION.
THE LARGEST CIRCULATION
CITY, COUNTY AND STATE.

DEFENS REPUTATION.

To LAWYERS.—A full report of the decisions of the Supreme Court is furnished to our correspondents by the friends of the Court.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—We do not read anonymous letters and communications. The name and address of the writer are indispensable. Rejected communications we can not undertake either to return or preserve.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS are now ready in pamphlet form, with table of cases and general index. At the last term decisions of very great importance were rendered. Sent post paid for $1. Address W. A. Hembel & Co.

GENERAL TRAVELING AGENT:
T. M. ACTON.

ATLANTA:

Friday Morning, October 30, 1874.

STATE DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FIRST DISTRICT:

Hon. J. HARTDGE, of Chatham.

SECOND DISTRICT:

Hon. W. E. SMITH, of Dougherty.

THIRD DISTRICT:

Hon. PHILIP COOK, of Sumter.

FOURTH DISTRICT:

Hon. H. R. HARRIS, Merriweather.

FIFTH DISTRICT:

Hon. M. A. CANDLER, of DeKalb.

SIXTH DISTRICT:

Hon. Jas. H. BLOUNT, of Bibb.

SEVENTH DISTRICT:

Hon. W. H. DARNEY, of Floyd.

EIGHTH DISTRICT:

Hon. A. H. STEPHENS, of Telfair.

NINTH DISTRICT:

Hon. G. M. MILLIAN, of Habersham.

ELECTION DAY, NOVEMBER 3d.

BREVITIES.

An Indian man died before he could speak divorce.

A New York man has been sued for the debt of his twin brother.

Louis Kosuth a seventy-two years old, age well and healthy.

Four wives are weeping over John T. Johnson, of Detroit, though he is only a water in the city.

A box of fun is poked at the nomination of Ayer for congress in Massachusetts. The Boston Globe says: "No ballot box genuine without the signature of C. A. C."

From thirty to forty cases a week sole in the treasury boards indicate that the insatiable misions of the government have led to the scenes of their undigested labors.—Washington Capital.

—Kate Fields plays on the stage at Booth's theater the engagement of Mrs. Jefferson. She has chosen "Peg Woffington" for her metropolitan opening. Mr. Jefferson's engagements commence on the 14th of November.

Court V. Arnal was born in 1834.

He did not inherit his wealth, but was created a baron by his son, who died July 28, 1873, while he was Russian ambassador to Rome. He is of middling height, has black hair, which he wears long, and blue eyes. These spectacles.

—They call themselves all complicitous that Miss Flint is introducing a "clownroom." These "cheminées" are very stimulating. A woman has a foot race at Northampton, Mass., over a male competitor the other day, and a female champion of "one leg."

—Courier Journal: It is said of students of Robert College that nearly all of them belong to either "the Theta Delta Chi, the Sigma Phi, the Alpha Delta Phi, or the Psi Upsilon," men to be the fellow who have been committing the outrages which Attorney General Williams talks so much about.

—One hundred years ago Louis XVI had appointed General Meigs as Captain of the wavy Australian Republic. To do this, General Meigs must get out of the way, and that, too, right speedily. The prospects for a third term will not permit dallying.

Gen. Meigs—who, by the way, is a Georgian by birth—has performed his duty satisfactorily, and nothing can be found in the administration of his department, either of maladministration or of corruption.

—They call themselves all complicitous that Miss Flint is introducing a "clownroom." These "cheminées" are very stimulating. A woman has a foot race at Northampton, Mass., over a male competitor the other day, and a female champion of "one leg."

—Courier Journal: It is said of students of Robert College that nearly all of them belong to either "the Theta Delta Chi, the Sigma Phi, the Alpha Delta Phi, or the Psi Upsilon," men to be the fellow who have been committing the outrages which Attorney General Williams talks so much about.

—One hundred years ago Louis XVI had appointed General Meigs as Captain of the wavy Australian Republic. To do this, General Meigs must get out of the way, and that, too, right speedily. The prospects for a third term will not permit dallying.

Gen. Meigs—who, by the way, is a Georgian by birth—has performed his duty satisfactorily, and nothing can be found in the administration of his department, either of maladministration or of corruption.

—They call themselves all complicitous that Miss Flint is introducing a "clownroom." These "cheminées" are very stimulating. A woman has a foot race at Northampton, Mass., over a male competitor the other day, and a female champion of "one leg."

—Courier Journal: It is said of students of Robert College that nearly all of them belong to either "the Theta Delta Chi, the Sigma Phi, the Alpha Delta Phi, or the Psi Upsilon," men to be the fellow who have been committing the outrages which Attorney General Williams talks so much about.

—The St. Louis Republican mentions the arrival of the wife of Major General E. H. S. Canby, and says: "This elegant lady, whose husband was killed by the Modocs, has devoted much of her life to alleviating the miseries of sick soldiers, and has been a comfort to the wounded at Santa Fe, New Mexico. She administered to the wants of the Confederate prisoners, and was called by them the 'Yankee Angel.'

—The St. Louis Republican mentions the arrival of the wife of Major General E. H. S. Canby, and says: "This elegant lady, whose husband was killed by the Modocs, has devoted much of her life to alleviating the miseries of sick soldiers, and has been a comfort to the wounded at Santa Fe, New Mexico. She administered to the wants of the Confederate prisoners, and was called by them the 'Yankee Angel.'

—The Asturian interest in the affairs of the Asturian interest in the Asturian of the eighteenth year, which will be the month of November, 1875, to issue a manifesto setting forth his views and policy after the fall of the prince imperial. In the meanwhile, the duke of Alburquerque, is taking carefully after his political education, and another, the marquis of Valjico, has loudly opened for him out of his own resources a credit of $25,000 a year in gold.

—An old soldier in Sicily gave his wife a silk dress. His wife died and was buried in the dress. Some weeks after his wife was buried, this dress on a woman in the costume of a maskerade, was sold at auction. The marquis of Valjico, who had the custody of the village cemetery. He reported the case to the police, who investigated and made out a bill that a regular trade was carried on in effigies of dead bodies. There was even a trade in gold.

—One night, recently, a Detroit policeman passing a certain street about 10 o'clock, saw a woman from a window and heard smothered cries inside. He seized the man for a burglar, but soon found that he had the owner of the house in his power. "Well, what's your story?" he looked suspicious to see my driver, said the officer. "Well, I got her," he replied, the man, having a sigh, "when the old dog gets her under up I ain't particular as what road I take to get out of the house."

—The cottage and grounds once the retreat of Maximilian in Mexico are in ruins, adherents of the new government having allowed to pillage and despoil them. The establishment was once a little castle. The building with vines and densely surrounded with guava and coffee trees. The grounds made them a picture of beauty. The interred Maximilian and his consort live there a only a few weeks just previous to his death.

—Next to the successful tackling of Bishop Perry, Mr. John Brown is most successful in tackling Bishop Perry. He has lately been staying with his friend, Mr. and Mrs. William Vernon-Harcourt. The course of independent candidates, however, of men of the highest cultivation in delightful country homes is one of primegeniture's pleasantest features.

DELEGATES of Georgia, arose to the duty of the hour. See to it that every democratic candidate for congress is elected. Democrats of several districts, roll up a tremendous majority for Dalmay, and thus prove your independence. Independent candidates, Democrats of Fulton county, read the ringing address of Judge Collier, and go to work in earnest. Let us give Collier the largest majority ever polled for a congressional candidate.

Bishop Elliott, of Texas:

THE JAMES BOYS.
Their Mother Tells of Their Kenny Parsonage, the Bandits' Wrongs and the Bandits' Flight to Mexico.

(Washington, Mo.)—Concordia.—Last Tuesday morning all Lexington was buried in gloom. The widow of Zerelda Samuel, the mother of the illustrious outlaws, had arrived in town, with her daughter, and was stopping at the hotel. Early in the afternoon, Capt. Poole, the editor of the Caucasian and announced that the ladies who were the innocent cause of this village hubbub had advanced so far as to have been captured into two missionary dioceses. Mr. Elliott was elected bishop of the western diocese. The precious boundaries of it cannot now be given, but it must, we think, include both Antioch and Corpus Christi; and several more considerable cities. If Mr. Elliott accepts the appointment, he will be supreme in this vast and prosperous diocese—a missionary bishop being in all respects on the same footing as other bishops, except in the source of his pay, which comes from the general fund of the whole church. Once located in the new diocese, Mr. Elliott will not be apt to return to his native state, as under his care it would quickly outrun the missionary stage, and the people along the Rio Grande would claim his services.

This honor has come to Mr. Elliott early in his career. He is only twenty-two years of age, and has been a priest less than four years. Nor is the bishopric of western Texas a sinecure, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force as a speaker, his devotion and untiring zeal, all indicate success in the high office to which he is now called.

We believe he will accept the proffered bishopric. This opinion is based more upon the precarious condition of his health than anything else. The work in the seminary to displease him, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force as a speaker, his devotion and untiring zeal, all indicate success in the high office to which he is now called.

We believe he will accept the proffered bishopric. This opinion is based more upon the precarious condition of his health than anything else. The work in the seminary to displease him, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force as a speaker, his devotion and untiring zeal, all indicate success in the high office to which he is now called.

We believe he will accept the proffered bishopric. This opinion is based more upon the precarious condition of his health than anything else. The work in the seminary to displease him, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force as a speaker, his devotion and untiring zeal, all indicate success in the high office to which he is now called.

We believe he will accept the proffered bishopric. This opinion is based more upon the precarious condition of his health than anything else. The work in the seminary to displease him, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force as a speaker, his devotion and untiring zeal, all indicate success in the high office to which he is now called.

We believe he will accept the proffered bishopric. This opinion is based more upon the precarious condition of his health than anything else. The work in the seminary to displease him, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force as a speaker, his devotion and untiring zeal, all indicate success in the high office to which he is now called.

We believe he will accept the proffered bishopric. This opinion is based more upon the precarious condition of his health than anything else. The work in the seminary to displease him, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force as a speaker, his devotion and untiring zeal, all indicate success in the high office to which he is now called.

We believe he will accept the proffered bishopric. This opinion is based more upon the precarious condition of his health than anything else. The work in the seminary to displease him, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force as a speaker, his devotion and untiring zeal, all indicate success in the high office to which he is now called.

We believe he will accept the proffered bishopric. This opinion is based more upon the precarious condition of his health than anything else. The work in the seminary to displease him, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force as a speaker, his devotion and untiring zeal, all indicate success in the high office to which he is now called.

We believe he will accept the proffered bishopric. This opinion is based more upon the precarious condition of his health than anything else. The work in the seminary to displease him, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force as a speaker, his devotion and untiring zeal, all indicate success in the high office to which he is now called.

We believe he will accept the proffered bishopric. This opinion is based more upon the precarious condition of his health than anything else. The work in the seminary to displease him, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force as a speaker, his devotion and untiring zeal, all indicate success in the high office to which he is now called.

We believe he will accept the proffered bishopric. This opinion is based more upon the precarious condition of his health than anything else. The work in the seminary to displease him, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force as a speaker, his devotion and untiring zeal, all indicate success in the high office to which he is now called.

We believe he will accept the proffered bishopric. This opinion is based more upon the precarious condition of his health than anything else. The work in the seminary to displease him, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force as a speaker, his devotion and untiring zeal, all indicate success in the high office to which he is now called.

We believe he will accept the proffered bishopric. This opinion is based more upon the precarious condition of his health than anything else. The work in the seminary to displease him, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force as a speaker, his devotion and untiring zeal, all indicate success in the high office to which he is now called.

We believe he will accept the proffered bishopric. This opinion is based more upon the precarious condition of his health than anything else. The work in the seminary to displease him, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force as a speaker, his devotion and untiring zeal, all indicate success in the high office to which he is now called.

We believe he will accept the proffered bishopric. This opinion is based more upon the precarious condition of his health than anything else. The work in the seminary to displease him, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force as a speaker, his devotion and untiring zeal, all indicate success in the high office to which he is now called.

We believe he will accept the proffered bishopric. This opinion is based more upon the precarious condition of his health than anything else. The work in the seminary to displease him, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force as a speaker, his devotion and untiring zeal, all indicate success in the high office to which he is now called.

We believe he will accept the proffered bishopric. This opinion is based more upon the precarious condition of his health than anything else. The work in the seminary to displease him, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force as a speaker, his devotion and untiring zeal, all indicate success in the high office to which he is now called.

We believe he will accept the proffered bishopric. This opinion is based more upon the precarious condition of his health than anything else. The work in the seminary to displease him, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force as a speaker, his devotion and untiring zeal, all indicate success in the high office to which he is now called.

We believe he will accept the proffered bishopric. This opinion is based more upon the precarious condition of his health than anything else. The work in the seminary to displease him, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force as a speaker, his devotion and untiring zeal, all indicate success in the high office to which he is now called.

We believe he will accept the proffered bishopric. This opinion is based more upon the precarious condition of his health than anything else. The work in the seminary to displease him, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force as a speaker, his devotion and untiring zeal, all indicate success in the high office to which he is now called.

We believe he will accept the proffered bishopric. This opinion is based more upon the precarious condition of his health than anything else. The work in the seminary to displease him, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force as a speaker, his devotion and untiring zeal, all indicate success in the high office to which he is now called.

We believe he will accept the proffered bishopric. This opinion is based more upon the precarious condition of his health than anything else. The work in the seminary to displease him, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force as a speaker, his devotion and untiring zeal, all indicate success in the high office to which he is now called.

We believe he will accept the proffered bishopric. This opinion is based more upon the precarious condition of his health than anything else. The work in the seminary to displease him, for he has been named in connection with at least two other dioceses, one of which was vacated by Bishop Cumming. But he is equal to all demands upon his powers. His engaging manner, his naturalness and freshness of the pulpit, his compact and original force

